COMPETITION FORMAT

The Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League is played every year and features the 16 top clubs from Concacaf, including North America, Central American, and the Caribbean region.

Concacaf's premier club competition is played in a knockout format, with home-and-away fixtures in the Round of 16, Quarterfinals, Semifinals, and Finals. The club that lifts the 2023 Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League trophy will qualify to the 2023 FIFA Club World Cup.

Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League Qualifying:

The 9 North American clubs qualify based on their specific performances through their local professional leagues and cups. Central American and Caribbean clubs qualify through the Scotiabank Concacaf League, with the top 6 teams from the competition winning a direct entry into the Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League. The Caribbean representative qualifies via the Flow Concacaf Caribbean Club Championship and joins the other 15 teams on the path to claim the elite title, the Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League trophy.

HISTORY OF CONCACAF CLUB COMPETITIONS

Concacaf's original club competition, known as the Concacaf Champions' Cup, was first organized in 1962. It was played in various formats until 2008 at which point it was renamed the Champion's League and would be structured around 24 clubs consisting of a preliminary, group and championship stage. All matches were a home and away series and the competition champion advanced to the FIFA Club World Cup.

In 2012 the Champions League's format was modified eliminating the preliminary round and putting all 24 clubs directly into the group stage by forming 8 groups of 3 teams. The winner of each group advanced to the championship round which remained unchanged.

In April of 2017, Concacaf announced the inaugural edition of the Scotiabank Concacaf League, the newest edition to the Confederation's expanded club competitions platform.

In 2019, the Scotiabank Concacaf League was expanded to 22 teams, including a Preliminary Round, and the top 6 teams from this competition would now qualify directly to the Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League.

Here are some of Concacaf's most important club-championship moments and occurrences:

2022: History was made as Seattle Sounders FC became the first MLS club in history to win the Concacaf Champions League in front of a record 68,741 fans. The Sounders defeated Pumas UNAM 3-0 after a 2-2 tie in the first leg.

2021: A team from Monterrey, Mexico, lifted the glorious trophy for a 3rd straight year as CF Monterrey defeated Club America 1-0 in a single-leg final played at the Estadio BBVA Bancomer.

2020: Tigres UANL was able to lift their first ever Concacaf Champions league trophy after defeating LAFC 2-1 in a centralized competition in Orlando.

2019: CF Monterrey defeated their direct rivals, Tigres UANL, with an aggregate score of 2-1 (1-0 away and 1-1 at home) to claim their record 4th title in 10 years in the competition.

2018: CD Guadalajara won a penalty shootout to beat Canadian side Toronto FC to earning the Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League trophy which is their first Concacaf Club trophy since they won the first ever Concacaf Champions Cup in 1962.

2016/17: Pachuca won their second Champions League title with a 2-1 aggregate win over Tigres. Pachuca, winner of the first edition of the Champions League, has now won twice in their three Champions League appearances.

2015/16: Club America gained its second straight SCCL title, earning a 2-1 win over Tigres in the second leg of the final and capturing the series 4-1 on aggregate. The Aguilas moved ahead of Cruz Azul for the most Concacaf club titles with seven and equaled Monterrey for the longest unbeaten streak in tournament history at 13 games.

2013/14: Cruz Azul became the Concacaf club champion for a record-setting sixth time, seizing the title on the away-goals rule after a 1-1 draw with Toluca in the second leg of the final. Mariano Pavone, the tournament's Golden Ball winner, scored what proved to be the championship-clinching goal in the 41st minute. The two sides played to a scoreless stalemate in the opener.

2012/13: Monterrey became the second team to secure three straight Concacaf titles, when it rallied from a two-goal deficit in the second leg of the final to post a 4-2 win over Santos (Mexico), taking the series by the same score. Aldo de Nigris (60', 87') scored two goals, while Neri Cardozo (84') and Humberto Suazo (90'+2) added one each for the champion Rayados.

2008/09: Atlante hoisted the first Champions League trophy thanks to a 2-0 aggregate win over Cruz Azul in the final. Fernando Navarro (17') and Christian Bermudez (24') scored the goals in the first leg.

2008: The Concacaf Champions Cup era closed with Pachuca (Mexico) downing Saprissa in the final, 3-2 on aggregate. Remarkably, the same sides are slated to meet in the 2016/17 Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League quarterfinals.

2005: Saprissa became the last non-Mexican to earn the Concacaf club title with a 3-2 aggregate triumph over Pumas (Mexico). Christian Bolaños, who is playing for the Vancouver Whitecaps (Canada) in the 2016/17 Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League, scored for the Monstruo Morado in the 2-1 first-leg win.

2001: The Concacaf Giants Cup was played for the first and only time. The concept behind the competition was for the teams with the highest attendances in the region to meet in an official competition. It consisted of 12 teams from eight-member associations. Club America defeated D.C. United, 2-0, in the final 1998: Eddie Pope scored the only goal as D.C. United defeated Toluca (Mexico) in the final, 1-0, becoming the first team from the United States to win the Concacaf Champions Cup. United then went on to capture the last-ever Copa InterAmerican, beating Brazil's Vasco da Gama, 2-1 on aggregate.

1993: Costa Rica rose to prominence as Saprissa started a run of three straight titles by clubs from the Central American nation. The Monstruo Morado nipped Leon (Mexico) and Municipal (Guatemala) on goal difference after the trio completed a four-team, final-round group on four points each. Cartagines lifted the 1994 trophy, outlasting Atlante (Mexico), 3-2, in a thrilling final that was pushed back to February 1995. Then, Saprissa regained the cup in 1995, topping the four-team, final-round table with seven points.

1991: The first-ever Concacaf Cup Winners Cup, a competition pitting the national cup winners of member associations, was contested between seven teams from seven countries. Atletico Marte (El Salvador) was crowned the champion after topping the final-round table with six points, one more than Comunicaciones. The competition crowned three more champions, before it was terminated in 1998.

1985: Defence Force (Trinidad & Tobago) became the last team from the Caribbean to take home Concacaf club honors after topping Olimpia (Honduras) in the final, 2-1 on aggregate, thanks to a 2-1 win in the first leg at home. Four teams from three countries have accounted for the Caribbean's six Concacaf championships -- Defence Force (Trinidad & Tobago: 1978, 1985), Transvaal (Suriname: 1973, 1981), Violette (Haiti: 1984) and Racing Club Haitien (Haiti: 1963).

1977: Club America (Mexico) earned the first of its record seven Concacaf club titles by edging Robinhood (Suriname), 2-1 on aggregate.

1971: Cruz Azul became the first team to win three consecutive Concacaf club titles, when it finished first in a six-team, final round group. La Maquina edged Alajuelense (Costa Rica) on goal difference, +13 to +4, after both sides finished atop the table on eight points.

1969: Cruz Azul (Mexico) captured the first of six crowns, when it overcame Comunicaciones, 1-0 on aggregate. Juan Manuel Alejandro scored the series' only goal in the second leg.

1963: Racing Club Haitien (Haiti) became the first Caribbean club to win the Concacaf Champions Cup, when it was awarded the trophy after fellow finalist Guadalajara couldn't play the two legs during the specified time frame.

1962: The first-ever Concacaf Champions Cup was contested between eight teams from seven countries, with Guadalajara (Mexico) earning the title with a 6-0 aggregate triumph over Comunicaciones (Guatemala). Salvador Reyes (25', 57', 88') struck for three goals as Chivas won the second leg, 5-0.

HOTELS

All hotels recommended by the home club, for use by the visiting clubs and match officials, are required to have a minimum rating of four stars. If there are no four-star hotels within a 50 miles radius of the stadium, then a hotel of lesser quality may be recommended, however it must be approved by Concacaf.

Each club must recommend at least three four-star hotels to ensure that the teams and the Concacaf HQ are able to stay at different hotels.

The visiting club must verify with both the home club and Concacaf to ensure that the hotel that they choose has not already be identified as the Concacaf HQ hotel or the home club's hotel. It is not mandatory that the visiting club uses a hotel recommended by the home team.

Concacaf will designate the Concacaf HQ for all 16 cities (or less if teams share the same city) prior to the start of the competition. These hotels cannot be used by either club when participating in the Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League competition.

If the visiting club books a hotel already pre-designated for use by the home club or Concacaf, then the visiting club will be required to change hotels at their own cost. If for whatever reason, it is decided that the alternative hotels are not able to accommodate the visiting club either due to security concerns or lack of available rooms, and therefore must stay at a hotel that is already being used either by the home club or Concacaf, then they must ensure that their rooms are on different floors than the other group.

Minimum requirements for a hotel to be considered:

- Four-star rating
- Minimum standards of each room must include:
 - Air conditioning / heating
 - Internet access (wired or wireless)
 - In room shower
 - Hot/cold running water
 - Toilet
 - Gym access (whether on or off the premises)
 - Access to a conference room
 - 24-hour security on the premises
- Must be within 50 miles from the stadium

ILLUMINATION REQUIREMENTS

Stadium Lighting

- Each Stadium must have an evenly lit field, with proper horizontal and vertical light distribution.
- The field lights must be fully turned on two hours before kick-off or before sunset, whichever comes first.
- Stadium lighting must remain on for a minimum of one-hour post-match to ensure the safe and complete egress of all spectators.
- A power backup system is required (separate and independent) from the primary system.

*Note that primary and back-up must also be separate from the power to the broadcast compound.

Lighting Standards

Starting in 2018, Concacaf implemented new lighting requirements for its competitions. The minimum illuminance required will be 1,000 lux measured vertically. This increase in lighting will assist in growing our competitions by allowing Concacaf to produce higher quality images for TV as well as make it more attractive to fans and for prospective new sponsors.

As of 2020, Concacaf again increased the lighting requirements, however the competitions were divided into three tiers, and the SCCL was established a Tier 1 competition.

Below explains each tier as well as details how the inspections will be conducted. This information will be useful for those who will conduct the inspections to ensure continuity.

Each club must ensure that the stadium management conducts yearly lighting and infrastructure inspections regardless of if they are participating in a Concacaf competition or not to identify issues and ensure compliance with league, federation, and confederation requirements. As it stands now, if the club waits to conduct the inspection qualifying for the competition, it may leave little time for your club to be able to correct any issues that may be discovered during the inspection.

Terminology:

- Horizontal Illuminance (Eh): Is the measurement of horizontal illuminance reaching a horizontal surface taken at one meter above the playing surface. (See diagram A)
- Main Camera Illuminance (Ev): Measurement of vertical illuminance towards the main camera position. Calculations will be based on light meter orientation perpendicular to the sideline at an angle of 60 degrees, at one meter above playing surface. (See diagram B)
- End Camera Illuminance (Ev): Measurement of vertical illuminance towards the end camera position. Calculations will be based on light meter orientation perpendicular to the end line at an angle of 60 degrees at 1 meter above playing surface. (See diagram B)
- Average Illuminance (Eh-avg or Ev-avg): The arithmetic average horizontal or vertical illuminance of a set of calculation points over a specified area.
- Maximum Illuminance (Eh-max or Ev-max): The highest recorded horizontal or vertical measurement over a set of calculation points.
- Minimum Illuminance (Eh-min or Ev-min): The lowest recorded horizontal or vertical measurement over a set of calculation points.
- Maximum to Minimum (Eh or Ev): The ratio of the maximum to minimum measurement.
- Average to Minimum (Eh-avg or Ev-avg): The ratio of the average horizontal or vertical measurement to the minimum horizontal or vertical reading.
- Uniformity Gradient (UG): Is a measure of the rate of change of illuminance expressed as a ratio between the illuminance level of adjacent measuring points on a uniform grid.

Concacaf Lighting Requirements 2022-2023

Calculation Metrix	Average (lux)	Maximum/Minimum Ratio	Average/Minimum Ratio	Uniformity Gradient
Main TV (Ev)	1000	2:1	1.4:1	1.4:1
End TV (Ev)	800	2:1	1:5:1	1.4:1

General Notes

- The above illumination values are minimum maintained requirements.
- Initial levels should be 1.4 times higher than indicated above to account for lumen and dirt depreciation.
- Light source color rendering index ≥ 65 CRI
- Light source kelvin temperature ≥ 4200 k

Diagram A – Horizontal Measurement

Diagram B – Vertical Measurement

Testing Parameters

- The illumination will be testing on a 10m x 10m grid spaced equally across the pitch. Minimum number of testing points required is 77. (See Diagram C)
- Measurements will be taken 1 meter above the playing surface for vertical & horizontal readings.
- Measuring equipment will require certificate of annual calibration.

PITCH REQUIREMENTS

General Information

- Mowing patterns are illustrated below.
- The pattern for game day should be the “Crossways Cut” shown below.
- The grass height can range from 25-30mm however the optimal cutting length of the grass should be 25mm.
- The height of the grass should be the same for the training session as it is for the match.

Match Operations

- To guarantee effective mowing, parts of the infrastructure (e.g. photographer positions, camera positions etc.) may need to be removed, depending on the stadium architecture and proximity of the perimeter hoardings to the pitch.

Timelines

- Mowing should NOT take place in extreme mid-day heat. Furthermore, it is vital that the morning dew has completely evaporated before mowing.

Mowing in Stadiums Prior to Training Sessions

- Mowing must be completed at least one hour before the first training sessions on Match Day-1. Exceptions are possible in the event of bad weather.
- Mowing duration: three to four hours, should be done prior to training.
- Re-marking the lines is not mandatory on every occasion. Concacaf's Venue Coordinator will assess the lines, then decide if re-application of paint is necessary. This will be done once the grass has been mowed.

- If deemed necessary by Concacaf's Venue Coordinator, the home club may need to cut the grass prior to training sessions or before the match.

Mowing in Stadiums Prior to Matches

- Schedule: Mowing must be completed at least five hours before kick-off. Exceptions are possible in the event of bad weather.
- Mowing duration: Mowing should take from three to four hours. Line marking will take one to one and half hours (time for drying has been excluded).
- Length of cutting: Should be agreed between the stadium's pitch maintenance team and Concacaf's Venue Coordinator, who will liaise with Concacaf HQ for any confirmation or feedback.
- No work should be done on the grass three hours before kick-off, on match day.

Pitch Watering Policy

- The pitch will be watered two hours before Kick Off. If needed and approved by Concacaf's Venue Coordinator, it can be watered again in the period between the end of the players' warm up (-20 minutes from Kick Off) and the start of the pre-game protocol (-8 minutes from Kick Off). It can also be watered again at half time.
- Pre-match watering will be determined by the Venue Coordinator together with the groundskeeper and respective venue management personnel on site. This shall be done on a match-by-match basis.
- Pre-match watering applies a light film of water to the pitch. It is very important that this water is not over applied. This process allows the ball to backspin and slide along the surface, making the pitch play faster.
- When watering pre-match, the groundskeeper needs to ensure that cameras and advertising boards are considered and that the irrigation system/sprinklers are individually controlled by staff where necessary. This must be done to ensure a light film of water application.

PITCH MEASUREMENTS

The below are excerpts taken from the International Football Association Board (IFAB) Laws of the Game. For full details, please review the "IFAB Laws of Game 2022/23".

Field measurements must comply with the international match standards as per the IFAB Laws of the Game.

International Matches

Length: minimum 100m (110yds) maximum 110m (120yds)

Width: minimum 64m (70yds) maximum 75m (80yds)

Field Markings

All lines must be of the same width, which must not be more than 12cm (5 inches).

The center mark is indicated at the midpoint of the halfway line. A circle with a radius of 9.15m (10yds) is marked around it.

Marks may be made off the field of play, 9.15m (10yds) from the corner arc and at right angles to the goal lines and the touch lines, to ensure that defending players retreat this distance when a corner kick is being taken.

Goal Area

Two lines are drawn at right angles to the goal line, 5.5m (6yds) from the inside of each goalpost. These lines extend into the field of play for a distance of 5.5m (6yds) and are joined by a line drawn parallel with the goal line. The area bounded by these lines and the goal line is the goal area.

Goal Posts

The distance between the posts is 7.32m (8yds) and the distance from the lower edge of the crossbar to the ground is 2.44m (8ft).

Both goalposts and the crossbar have the same width and depth, which do not exceed 12cm (5in). The goal lines must be of the same width as the goalposts and the crossbar.

Grass Height

The grass height can range from 25-30mm however the optimal cutting length of the grass should be 25mm.

The Corner Arc

A quarter circle with a radius of 1m (1yd) from each corner flag post is drawn inside the field of play.

Flag posts

Not less than 1.5m (5ft) high, with a non-pointed top and a flag must be placed at each corner. Flag posts may also be placed at each end of the halfway line, not less than 1m (1yd) outside the touch line.

The Penalty Area

Two lines are drawn at right angles to the goal line, 16.5m (18yds) from the inside of each goalpost. These lines extend into the field of play for a distance of 16.5m (18yds) and are joined by a line drawn parallel with the goal line. The area bounded by these lines and the goal line is the penalty area. Within each penalty area, a penalty mark is made 11m (12yds) from the midpoint between the goalposts and equidistant to them. An arc of a circle with a radius of 9.15m (10yds) from the center of each penalty mark is drawn outside the penalty area.

The Technical Area

The technical area extends 1m (1yd) on either side of the designated seated area and extends forward up to a distance of 1m (1yd) from the touch line

Commercial Advertising

No form of commercial advertising, whether real or virtual, is permitted on the field of play, on the ground within the area enclosed by the goal nets or the technical area, or on the ground within 1m (1 yd.) of the boundary lines from the time the teams enter the field of play until they have left it at half-time and from the time the teams re-enter the field of play until the end of the match.

Advertising is not permitted on the goals, nets, flag posts or their flags and no extraneous equipment (cameras, microphones, etc.) may be attached to these items.

In addition, upright advertising must be at least:

If your club utilizes their own credentialing system, then Concacaf will require digital examples of the credentials sent to Concacaf one (1) month prior to the start of the competition with an explanation of their use and the areas they cover.

Home Clubs will be responsible to:

- Print and post Concacaf's credential boards at all entrances where the credentials will be in effect.

INDIVIDUAL CREDENTIAL IS ONLY VALID FOR A SINGLE MATCH

Concacaf's credentialing system focuses on the following areas:

- Field Area
- Competition Area (e.g., locker rooms, VC office)

For all other areas, a club can use their own accreditation system

Access will only be granted to the field, competition and media areas using Concacaf credentials.

MATCH INTERRUPTIONS PROCEDURE

The following people have the right to interrupt a match:

Referee: Laws of the Game / Pitch

The Referee will interrupt a match if the pitch is not fit for play or for any other issues which are not in-line with the IFAB Laws of the Game.

Venue Coordinator: Stadium and Security

The VC should, after consulting with the LOC responsible and/or Security Officer, interrupt a match in case that safety and security is not guaranteed anymore in the stadium and a potential danger is caused for teams and spectators.

Match Interruption

If a match is interrupted by the Referee or Venue Coordinator before the completion of normal playing time or extra time because of any force majeure or any other incidents such as the field is not fit for play, weather conditions, floodlight failure, lack of security etc. the following recommendations are to be considered depending on the incident:

- Interruption for approx. up to 15 minutes: the teams should stay on the field of play depending on the nature of the interruption
- Interruption for 15 – 30 minutes: teams should go to the dressing rooms; they should be allowed to have 10 minutes warm up before the restart of the match. 10 minutes warning to restart the match to all the parties involved (teams, match officials, spectators, HQ, TV, media)
- Interruption for more than 30 minutes: teams should go to the dressing rooms; they should be allowed to have 20 minutes warm up before restart of the match. 20 minutes warning to restart the match to all the parties involved
- Interruption of more than 1½ - 2 hours: match may be considered as abandoned depending on the situation. After the final decision is made, the Venue Coordinator should inform the teams/referees first

Note: A match will restart at the same minute when it was interrupted.

Please always consider the crowd behaviour and/or the occupation rate in the stadium etc. when deciding to interrupt or abandon a match. Consult the LOC responsible and/or the Security Officer in any doubt.

In the case of a match being abandoned because of force majeure for any reason after it has already kicked off, the match shall recommence with the same score at the minute at which play was interrupted rather than being replayed in full.

The following principles shall apply to the recommencement of the match:

- a) the match shall recommence with the same players on the pitch and substitutes available as when the match was initially abandoned.
- b) no additional substitutes may be added to the list of players on the team sheet.
- c) the teams can make only the number of substitutions to which they were still entitled when the match was abandoned.
- d) players sent off during the abandoned match cannot be replaced.

- e) any sanctions imposed before the match was abandoned remain valid for the remainder of the match.
- f) the kick-off time, date (foreseen for the following day) and location shall be decided by the Organizing Committee.
- g) Any matters requiring further decision shall be taken by the Organizing Committee.

SCENARIOS

Floodlight failure

- You should be aware of the procedure of a floodlight failure in advance of the match
- Depending on the duration of the interruption, give a 15–30-minute warning to restart the match to all the parties involved. Follow the procedure as proposed above.

Rain

- If the referee stops a match because of heavy rain the teams should be sent to the dressing rooms
- After the rain stops, immediate action must be taken to clean the pitch. As soon as the pitch is playable again, the referee shall inform all the parties involved about the restart of the match. Follow the procedure as proposed above.

Thunder and Lighting (30-30 rule)

- The referee should stop the match when you can count 30 seconds or less between lightning and thunder. Because light travels at a faster speed than sound, you can see a lightning bolt before the sound of thunder reaches you. Take appropriate shelter when you can count 30 seconds or less between lightning and thunder.
- To judge how close lightning is, count the seconds between the flash and the thunderclap. Each second represents about 300 metres. If you can count less than 30 seconds between the lightning strike and the thunder, the storm is less than 10 km away and there is an 80 percent chance the next strike will happen within that 10 km. If you count less than 30 seconds, take shelter, preferably in a low-lying area. Lightning may strike several kilometres away from the parent cloud and precautions should be taken even if the thunderstorm is not directly overhead.
- Remain sheltered for 30 minutes after the last thunder. Match should restart no less than 30 minutes after the last thunder. Follow the procedure as proposed above.

Please note that Concacaf will check with the weather system at the stadium to check how the storm is behaving to confirm when is safe to restart the game.

CRISIS MANAGEMENT PROCEDURE

If a match is interrupted by the Referee or Venue Coordinator before the completion of normal playing time or extra time because of any force majeure or any other incidents the following steps have to be taken:

- Identify crisis
- Consult HQ
- Meet the Crisis Group consisting of
 - Venue Coordinator
 - Match Coordinator
 - Competitions Manager
 - Security Authorities/Security Officer
 - Referee, if needed
- Inform the HQ about the result of the meeting for their final proposal
- Inform all other parties involved

OPERATIONS

Concacaf Venue Coordinator

The Concacaf Venue Coordinator is the main Concacaf representative in the venue who makes sure that the match takes place according to the plan. All groups involved in the match organization, from the clubs to the volunteers, from the organizing committee to the ball kids, all report to him and he decides how things work. The Concacaf Venue Coordinator will as well oversee the actions of the Ball Crew and provide assistance whenever necessary.

Concacaf Match Coordinator

He sits on the smaller bench at the center of the pitch between the team benches and keeps an eye on all operations all throughout the match.

LOC Ball Crew Trainer

At each stadium, there will be one LOC (Local Organizing Committee) representative who will be in charge of the Ball Crew. This person will be experienced in training the Ball Crew and will help conduct the trainings before the tournament starts as well as on match days. In addition, they have to know the stadium in detail and can find their way through the maze of a stadium! They will show you the way to the different places where you will spend some time during your stay in the stadium. You will spend the most time with the LOC

Ball Crew Trainer who will be there to answer your questions and help you to do a good job.

Referee

Everyone knows what a referee does during a football match: they apply the IFAB Laws of the Game to all the players, making sure the match is played in a correct way. When you will be on the pitch during the match, you have to always follow the instructions of the referee. Sometimes, a referee can ask a Ball Crew kid to give a ball to a player, and of course it is important for the Ball Crew to obey the order. It is also important for the Ball Crew to always keep their eyes on the referee.

Assistant Referees and the Fourth Official

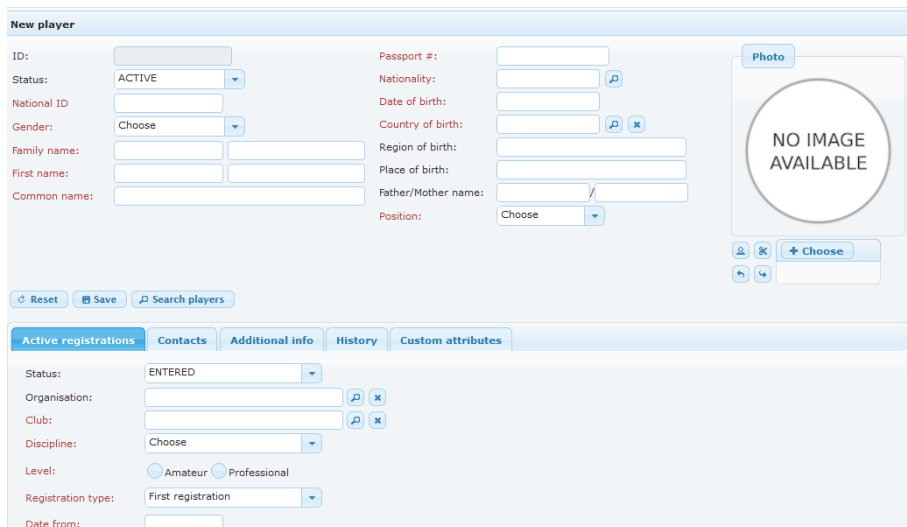

The referee is supported by two assistants, who stand on the touch line, close to where some ball kids will be located. It is very important for the ball kids to follow the instructions of the assistant referees. For example, sometimes the assistant referees will give instructions to the Ball Crew. In the technical area on the main touch line, the fourth official is also a very important official of the match.

Competition Rosters

35-Player Roster List: In accordance with the Regulations, each club may register up to 35 players who are properly registered with the club and their Association. All 35 players do NOT need to be included on this list but a minimum of 18 are required. If there is space available on the Roster, players may be added as the competition progresses. Please note that a player must appear on the 35-player roster in order to be included on the 23-player match roster. Once a player has been added on the roster, he may NOT be removed.

23-Player Match Roster: In accordance with the Regulations, a roster of up to 23 players must be submitted to Concacaf as well as to your opponent, no later than 44 hours prior to kick-off time of your match (local time). Rosters are to be submitted within the Comet system, by adding players to the competition. Once Concacaf reviews the initial 35-player roster (regardless of if there are 35 players or not but provided there are a minimum of 18), the Team Manager must mark players as active or inactive prior to the upcoming match. The number of active players must be equal to either a minimum of 18 or a maximum of 23. Once the number of active players between 18 and 23 has been determined, Team Managers are to confirm their final roster by clicking the confirm button within Comet. The players in this list must be registered in the list of 35 players as indicated above and are the only players that can be selected for the final line-up of 23 players for a specific match.

DIVERSITY

Concacaf embraces and promotes diversity as a key value of football. The Confederation is committed to being a multicultural organization that supports inclusiveness and fair play.

Preserving the integrity of the game is a high priority of the Concacaf Council and its administration. To fulfill this objective, it is essential that the football family voices its commitment to respecting the game while contributing to foster a culture of inclusiveness and respect on and off the field.

In an effort to prevent discriminatory incidents, Concacaf asks each participating national association, their respective club teams, officials and all persons involved in the preparation, organization and hosting of the competition, to observe and adopt the following principles and measures in order to protect the players and the integrity and safety of the game:

According to such Code of Ethics, any behavior which breaches the mentioned article can be sanctioned by the Concacaf Ethics Committee.

- Concacaf Code of Conduct

As members of the Concacaf family, we shall at all times comply with the following principles for behavior and conduct:

- Respect and dignity

We treat everyone with respect, and protect the personal dignity, privacy and personal rights of every person.

- Zero tolerance of discrimination and harassment

We are committed to a diverse culture. - Concacaf Protocol for Racist Incidents during Matches

The Confederation has approved a comprehensive protocol for managing racist incidents during matches. The protocol outlines a three-stage method for dealing with any serious racist and/or discriminatory behavior in football stadiums, such as racist chants, insults, screams and banners.

1. Stopping of the match

The referee will stop the match and a public announcement will be made demanding that the discriminatory behavior ceases.

2. Suspension of the match

If the discriminatory behavior continues after play restarts, the referee may suspend the match for a specific period (approximately five to ten minutes) and send the teams to their dressing rooms. A further stadium announcement will be made informing the spectators of the situation and demanding that the discriminatory behavior cease, together with a warning that the match will be abandoned if the behavior continues. While play is suspended, a crisis security meeting will be held that will also involve the captains of both teams. The possibility of abandoning the match will be discussed.

3. Abandonment of the match

If steps 1 and 2 are ineffective and the crisis security meeting determines that the match should be abandoned, the referee will abandon the match. This will be followed by an announcement informing the spectators of the decision to abandon the match and containing security instructions.

The competent FIFA bodies will discuss whether to replay the match or to decide on its result and will inform the participating teams and general public of their decision as soon as possible.

With these measures, FIFA strengthens its approach to non-discrimination, as enshrined in article 4 of the FIFA Statutes, by reinforcing its commitment to analyzing and sanctioning relevant incidents. We are counting on your support and wish you a successful and discrimination-free tournament.

SPORTS INTEGRITY

I. What is Match-Manipulation?

There can be no doubt that corruption in sports, particularly, match-manipulation (or 'match-fixing' as it is often named) is one of the greatest threats to the integrity of sport competitions worldwide that also has the potential to affect the sporting industry globally. If the outcome of a game is determined before it has started, football stands to lose a lot more than just its credibility. Allegations of match- manipulation and corruption, have already led to the cancellation of sponsor contracts and, longer term, fans will stay away.

Match-manipulation is a global problem which affects not only football but also other sports worldwide. Criminals manipulate matches and then place bets on them in order to earn money illegally. This business has been so lucrative that Organized Crime Syndicates and the Mafia take part in match-manipulation. This means for all people involved in match-manipulation cases, that they are dealing with Organized Crime, and this can cause a threat to their lives. The best way to protect yourself is therefore to decline any offer to manipulate a game immediately and report it to Concacaf. Our experiences have shown that the criminals will not approach you again. They will approach other people instead.

Usually, the criminals will approach you in a friendly way, pretending they are your friend or fan and trying to get your confidence. Once you trust them, they might ask you what you earn and propose how you can make more money. After you have agreed once to manipulate a game, they will blackmail you and use violence to get you to do what they want.

There are many ways that a match can be manipulated by a player. This includes for instance:

- Agreeing to lose a match intentionally
- Agreeing to draw a match to prevent the opposing team from being relegated
- Agreeing to deliberately receive a yellow card
- Agreeing to deliberately concede a corner
- Agreeing to deliberately give away a penalty

Note: Every agreement about the course or result of a game is prohibited and is part of match-manipulation.

These criminals will approach anyone who can influence the match, such as:

- Players
- Coaches
- Referees
- Players' agents
- Team administrators
- Club managers

Therefore, it is essential that all members of the football family are aware of this threat.

II. Concacaf Sports Integrity Regulations

Concacaf takes the fight against match-manipulation very seriously. The Concacaf Sports Integrity Department is in charge of preventing match-manipulation and educating all people within the Concacaf football family about the threat that it poses. It is also responsible for investigating and sanctioning all cases of match-manipulation with zero tolerance. We work closely together with FIFA and other partners and stakeholders in order to fight match-manipulation and maintain a zero-tolerance approach to any form of match-manipulation in football.

Concacaf has implemented regulations to protect our sport in the Concacaf Code of Ethics. The Concacaf Ethics Committee is the judicial body that will issue the decision based on the regulations in that code.

It is very important that you read the following regulations carefully in order to protect yourself from being sanctioned by the Concacaf Ethics Committee.

Unlawful Influence of the Course or Result of Matches:

Match-manipulation is defined in Article 26 of the Concacaf Code of Ethics as every act of influencing the course or result of a match in a manner contrary to sporting ethics. Every act of influencing the game in an illicit way is prohibited and will be sanctioned by Concacaf. Under the Code of Ethics, any person found guilty of match-manipulation can be sanctioned with a lifetime ban from any football related activity.

Prohibition of participating in the betting sector:

Article 28 of the Concacaf Code of Ethics prohibits any person from taking part, either directly or indirectly, with betting or gambling associated with football.

Most match-manipulation occurs so that the criminals can bet on the outcome of the match and as a result make illegal profits. Every person bound by the Code of Ethics is prohibited from betting on games so that the integrity of the competition and matches can be maintained.

Every breach of these regulations can lead to sanctions by the Concacaf Code of Ethics.

Prohibition of disclosure and utilization of insider information

Article 29 of the Concacaf Code of Ethics prohibits using or revealing insider information. Insider information is defined as any information that is not publicly available and that you have only obtained because of your position in football, for instance if you know that the best player of your team has an injury or the team selection. Such information must not be disclosed to any third party, for any reason. Every breach of these regulations can lead to sanctions by the Concacaf Code of Ethics.

Obligation to report

Article 27 of the Concacaf Code of Ethics requires that any person with information about any integrity issue to disclose this information and report it to Concacaf immediately. The information must be passed on to Concacaf regardless of whether the approach was successful, or any offer was accepted or denied.

Concacaf aims to protect every participant and by reporting, you not only protect yourself, but everyone else in the football family. A criminal is likely to approach someone else if you have declined their offer and approach. By reporting this to Concacaf, the person responsible can be investigated and this protects your teammates, coaches, and other officials from being approached too.

The obligation to report any information and to cooperate in any investigations by Concacaf is to ensure that the integrity of the game and all people involved are protected.

Concacaf has established two different reporting mechanisms. One of them is the email address Integrity@concacaf.org. We recommend everyone who has the obligation to report to use this email address which goes directly to the Sports Integrity Department. All information shared will be kept confidential and not be shared with an unauthorized third party.

If you prefer to report confidentially, without Concacaf knowing your identity, you can report to our Whistleblower System, which is available via our Webpage. Look for 'Integrity Report' or visit <https://secure.ethicspoint.com/domain/media/en/gui/40739/index.html>

This system provides different channels for individuals to report confidentially and anonymously, any issue related to match-manipulation in the Concacaf region. You can file a confidential, anonymous report via either telephone by calling a toll-free hotline system or the internet. More information can be found on that website.

III. Integrity Declaration Forms

All Players, Coaches and Club Manager must sign the Concacaf Integrity Declaration Form once per calendar year. This declaration contains very important regulations regarding Integrity and Diversity.

Failure to sign the Form can lead to disciplinary measures by Concacaf. Completion of the Form confirms your commitment, with Concacaf, to uphold the integrity of football.

IV. Monitoring

In order to detect and investigate potential match manipulation cases, Concacaf actively monitors its Competitions and tournaments. Concacaf engages detection and monitoring agencies to protect the integrity of the Scotiabank Concacaf Champions League. These professional monitoring agencies run sophisticated technical systems to detect irregularities in the betting market which could be linked to match-manipulation. They compare the movements on the betting market with the performance of players and referees on the pitch. Once irregularities have been detected, they provide a report to Concacaf's Sports Integrity Department which will then start deeper investigations with our partners.

V. Stay Clean

Match-manipulation damages the integrity of football and can put you in dangerous situations.

- When dealing with criminals, often organized crime, you can put yourself or your family and friends in danger
- You may face criminal sanctions by State Courts and jail time
- You and your team will lose sponsorship contracts
- You must return any awards or trophies
- Your reputation will be destroyed
- You will face a significant fine
- You will face a worldwide lifetime ban from taking part in any football related activity by FIFA
- Your football career will be over

Follow the rules for your own best interests. Do not risk your reputation and your career.

VI. Your Contact Person

Work together with Concacaf to keep our sport clean by immediately reporting and remember to contact Concacaf's Acting Director of Sports Integrity Mr. Marco Leal via Integrity@concacaf.org if you have any questions or concerns.
